

The Nile Basin Initiative (NBI)

The Nile Basin Initiative (NBI) is a partnership of the riparian states of the Nile: Burundi, Democratic Republic of Congo, Egypt, Ethiopia, Kenya, Rwanda, Sudan, Tanzania and Uganda. Eritrea participates as an observer. The NBI seeks to develop the river in a cooperative manner, share substantial socioeconomic benefits, and promote regional peace and security. The NBI partnership was established on 22nd February 1999, started with a participatory process of dialogue among the riparian countries that resulted in their agreed shared vision: "achieve sustainable socioeconomic development through the equitable utilization of, and benefit from, the common Nile Basin water resources," and a Strategic Action Program to translate this vision into concrete activities and projects. Later in 2014 South Sudan Joined.

Shared Vision Program

Objective: Create an enabling environment for cooperative development and management.

Subsidiary Action Program

Objective: Realize cooperation through concrete investments and action on ground projects at local levels.

Eastern Nile Subsidiary Action Program (ENSAP) implemented by ENTRO, Addis Ababa Ethiopia, Nile Equatorial Lakes Subsidiary Action Program (NELSAP) implemented by NELSAP-CU, Kigali, Rwanda.

The Eastern Nile Technical Regional Office (ENTRO)

The Eastern Nile Technical Regional Office (ENTRO) has been established by the Eastern Nile Council of Ministers (ENCOM) in June 2002 to identify, prepare, facilitate implementation, and coordinate cooperative projects within the Eastern Nile basin by the Eastern Nile Countries (Egypt, Ethiopia & Sudan). South Sudan joined in 2014. The overall purpose of ENTRO is to support ENSAPT and ENCOM in the complex task of developing, implementing, and managing the multi-country Eastern Nile Subsidiary Action Program (ENSAP).
